CARVER BADLY SCARED BY A NEGRO FOOTPAD

Tom Carver, a driver for the F. C. Daehler company, was scared out of ten years' growth as the result of encountering a negro highwayman Monday night. WEST VIRGINIA MAKES "TOUGH" TO PAY DEBTS

Charleston, W. Va., May 11.—All claims against the state of West Virginia up to May 1, amounting to $119,000, will be paid today according to an announcement made last night by B. L. Long, state treasurer. This is made possible, he said, by the large receipts of state taxes during the last few days. The state treasurer said that in the last few weeks claims on the state treasury amounting to approximately $90,000 had been paid and $100,000 borrowed from the Workmen's Compensation fund had also been replaced with interest. He said the money paid out today would be applied to the salaries of state employees, the running expenses of state institutions and ordinary expenses of the state government.

FEW CANCELLATIONS IN STEAMSHIP LISTS

New York, May 11.—No general cancellation of the sailings of steamers or of passages engaged from New York to European ports has followed the sinking of the Lusitania, according to agents of steamship lines here. They say, however, that there has been an increase in the popularity of vessels flying neutral flags. The fact that the American Line has stopped booking third-class passengers for the St. Louis, which is due to leave here Saturday, was cited as an evidence of this.

The agent of the French Line said that the sinking of the Lusitania would not prevent them from sending their steamers across as usual. At the offices of the Canadian-American and Holland-American lines, it was stated, that no sailings had been cancelled. Agents of the White Star Line said the Olympic would sail from New York for Liverpool next Friday, according to schedule. Forty cabin and three hundred steerage passengers already are booked for that steamer.

At the offices of the Cunard Line it was said that no instructions have been received from Liverpool regarding the sailings of its steamers and there have been no cancellations. It was estimated that 2,350 passengers are on board the various steamships from American ports bound for destinations that will take them within range of German submarine activity.

"GERMANY, CONFIDENT OF VICTORY, DOES NOT CARE WHAT THE UNITED STATES MAY DO OR SAY", SAYS LONDON TIMES

London, May 11.—Discussing the attitude of the United States toward Germany the Times says it "does not complain" because of the lack of vigorous action at Washington, but says "we are concerned only to make the British people understand they must not look to the United States, nor any other external factor but must rely upon themselves and their allies. Whatever prompted the sinking of the Lusitania it means that the German nation is so confident of ultimate victory it does not care in the least what the United States may say or do."

COMB SAGE TEA IN LIFELESS, GRAY HAIR

Look young! Common garden Sage and Sulphur darken so naturally nobody can tell.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. When her hair fell out or looked thin, dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with the careful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says: "I have used Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and surely that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant."

GERMANY EXPLAINS POSITION AS TO BLOCKADE

SENDS NOTE TO U. S.

Washington, May 11.—Germany through Ambassador Gerard notified the United States that submarine commanders had been specifically instructed not to harm neutral vessels not engaged in hostile acts and that Germany would pay damages to such ships in war zone. Neutral ships carrying contraband will be dealt with, announcement says, according to rules of naval warfare. If neutral ships are accidentally damaged in war zone Germany will express regret and pay damages without prize court procedure.

The German government justifies its submarine warfare on the ground that England is threatening to starve the civilian population of Germany by prohibiting neutral commerce in foodstuffs and other necessities.

1915 SEASON OPENED AT MILLBROOK PARK

With a thousand loyal fans in the grand stand and bleachers, the 1915 baseball season was inaugurated this afternoon at Millbrook park, Portsmouth meeting her ancient and honored rival Chillicothe in the initial contest. As is told on the sporting page of this issue a parade in which city officials, the retail merchants, board of trade and other leading citizens, participated, preceded the trip to Millbrook. Before the game at the park both teams headed by their peerless organization, "The River City band," marched from the penitentiary to the home plate. Just as the band neared the plate they struck up the strains of Star Spangled Banner. Everybody in the grandstand stood with heads bared. Mayor Frick then made a short address, after which he tossed out a glistening new ball from the first row to Outfielder H. Corbin of the Chillicothe team, who was near the home plate. Both teams practiced with a lot of "pop" and spectators realized that whatever else the teams of the Ohio State League may lack in 1915 it will not be wanting in enthusiasm. The Portsmouth team appeared in last year's uniforms of white with red sweaters, the new ones having failed to arrive. An invitation to both teams to attend the Sun theatre tonight was then made by Manager Fitzhugh Lee. Umpire Long announced the batteries: Chillicothe, Moore, pitcher, Delberry, catcher; Portsmouth, McCall, pitcher, Mills, catcher. Josh Davore, manager of the visiting team and of National League was given a big ovation when he stepped to the plate as third batter. The score at the end of the second inning was 0 to 0. The locals had secured two hits, McCall having held Chillicothe hitless. Portsmouth had three men on bases in the second but failed to score, Mills being thrown out at the plate when he tried to score from second on a hit. Portsmouth made their first run of the season in the third inning when Diltz walked and Sharman tripped to middle.

WAS A SUICIDE

Word received from Waverly late Tuesday afternoon confirmed first reports that the unknown negro killed by an N. & W. freight train there Tuesday morning had committed suicide.

The negro had deliberately laid down on the tracks with his head on the rail and was decapitated. A railroad pass found upon his person contained the name of Jack Edmund, of Bluefield, W. Va.

that loving hands could do for her. Funeral services were held at the Presbyterian church, conducted by Rev. J. B. Bauman of the Methodist church. Burial at the Stockham cemetery.

Mrs. Anna Knous

Word was received here Monday night that Mrs. Anna Knous, aged 64 years, mother of Mrs. W. R. Beatty, of Oakland avenue, and Mrs. W. M. Pfaffenberger, of New Fifth street, dropped dead at her home in Halifax, Penn.

The message gave no other particulars. Letters received from Mrs. Knous a few weeks ago indicated that she was in perfect health and the news of her sudden demise came as a decided shock to the daughters here. They expect to leave on an afternoon train for Halifax to attend the funeral.

Mrs. Knous is survived by her husband, Richard Knous, and besides the two daughters leaves an only son, Charles Knous, also of Halifax. She was a member of the Baptist church.

OBITUARY

Susan Galford Stockham

Susan Galford Stockham was born May 3, 1844, in Pike county, Ohio and passed away after a long and painful illness May 1, 1915, at the home of her son, William, in Stockham, Nebraska, aged 70 years, 11 months and 28 days.

The decedent was united in marriage to Joseph Stockham March 7, 1862, at Waverly, Pike county, Ohio. To this union eight children were born, four dying in infancy. Those who are left to mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother are the husband, Joseph and the children, William, of Stockham, Neb.; Mrs. Jennie Agnes Milliken of Folsom, New Mexico; Mrs. Margaret Bergeson of Bismark, North Dakota and Samuel B., of Rock Island, Texas. Besides the husband and children, four sister and one brother are left to mourn her departure.

The family left Ohio in 1865, soon after the close of the war, stopping at Decatur, Macon county, Ill. where they remained four years then the family left for Nebraska, overland, and arrived in March 1870. They settled on a homestead on the Blue near what is now known as Stockham.

Here the decedent with her husband reared their family and resided until 1895 when Mr. and Mrs. Stockham with their youngest son moved to northwestern Nebraska. Here they resided until February 1909 when failing health caused them to seek a warmer climate and they moved to Rock Island, Texas, where they spent five years, coming back to Stockham, Nebraska in the spring of 1914, where the remainder of the decedent's days were spent at the home of her son William. BASE BALL TODAY.

Under the most favorable auspices the Ohio State League base ball season opened today. Locally the event was signalized this afternoon with an immense automobile parade, and addresses at the park by the mayors of Portsmouth and New Boston respectively. Then the first ball out across the plate and Portsmouth and her old-time rival, Chillicothe, began another struggle for supremacy.

The Ohio State League this year is composed of Portsmouth, Chillicothe, Ironton, Charleston, Lexington and Frankfort, and it is beginning its eighth season. Of the present members, Portsmouth is the oldest team in the league, and it is a gratifying testimonial to local enthusiasm that the team has always been loyally supported here. That this loyal, earnest support will continue, there is no doubt, and equally there is no doubt but that we will again have some mighty fine base ball in the Ohio State.

Our team this year is a team of youngsters, the average age of the players being about 20 years. That augurs well for the future. After they get their stride, they will undoubtedly give good account of themselves. If they do not bring home the pennant, they at least will put us on the base ball map, and the other teams will know that we are on earth.

This year, too, we start out with a new league president, Joseph Carr, long secretary of the League and a thorough going, clean, honest sportsman. He ought to make a fine official and will do his share to keep things up to the high standard set by his predecessor Robert W. Read. Locally, the Portsmouth team goes out under a new leader, a home boy, Chester Spencer, succeeding the veteran Pete Childs. Spencer is a great ball player and he has had the experience that will put him over as a success.

The Times congratulates the local management upon what they have done in the past and what they expect to do in the future. We trust that the season will, in every way, meet their expectations.

WAR NOT A PINK TEA AFFAIR.

War is not supposed to be a pretty affair in which one combatant apologizes to the other before he shoots him or bayonets him or blows him up by a mine. It is just what Sherman is popularly alleged to have said it was, it is hell. And in the present European struggle, where the fate of nations and their identity as such hangs on the outcome, the desperation of the nations engaged makes it doubly certain that there will be no little niceties of manner as to the achievement of results such as characterized warfare in the days of the Round Table.

Americans should realize this. They should keep before their minds that national existence is at stake for most of those at war in Europe, that the man who gets in the way, however good intentioned he may be, is liable to get hurt, and if he does get hurt, he is liable to involve his countrymen at home in difficulties. In other words, Europe is a good place to avoid right now. Just bear all this in mind when you begin to sit in judgment upon the various tales of alleged cruelty perpetrated by one or another of the parties to the conflict. There have been excesses no doubt, but once the savage passions of men are let loose one is surprised not that tales of cruelty are so many, but rather that they are so few.

But getting back to the niceties of war, human nature is human nature and we in America have at times been none too squeamish about means or methods. For instance—last night we were reading a history of "The Conspiracy of Pontiac," by Parkman and there we read where a governor of Pennsylvania issued a proclamation in which he offered a reward of 150 Spanish dollars for each Indian male prisoner over 10 years of age; 130 Spanish dollars for each female prisoner and children under 10 years; 134 Spanish dollars for the scalp of every male Indian over 10 years of age, and 50 Spanish dollars for the scalp of every female Indian. In explanation of this remarkable proclamation, the author of it excused it on the ground that the existence of the settlements on the frontier was at stake and he thought it the most effective means of bringing the warriors of Pontiac to terms speedily.

Roanoke proposes to get too good, which is only proof conclusive that Roanoke has been too bad. A city, like an individual, who becomes too acutely the victim of a quickened conscience overdoes the thing at the start, tucks back and gets worse than ever.

THE LID IS OFF AT LAST

THE GREATEST IN THE WORLD.

No doubt a great many readers wonder why The Times carries above all other reading matter on its first page the announcement:

"The Portsmouth Times receives the full Associated Press report over its own leased wire."

The reason is obvious enough when one understands just what the Associated Press is. It is the greatest news gathering force in all the world, and it is the one agency whose business extends into every nook and cranny of the earth and that is in constant touch therewith. It is the confident and mouth-piece of presidents, kings and potentates. It is feared and respected by governments of high and low degree because its mission is to tell the truth and nothing else but the truth, neither adding to nor taking therefrom. It is the biggest business in existence, not for profit. It exists nothing to become entitled to its service and yet not the richest paper can buy that same service. It is a voluntary association of newspapers and each pays according to the news it gets from it—just enough to pay for the cost of gathering the news and a little more to provide a fund for extraordinary emergencies, but not a cent of dividend or direct profit to any member.

In every principal city in the United States and in each and every town where there is a daily paper it has a reporter. In all the capitals of Europe, in South America, Asia, Africa, Australia, Ceylon, Madagascar and all the big cities of these continents and islands it has its representatives. All men trained and experienced to get the news, to tell its facts and have no opinion in the relation. In the hiring of them and the paying of telegraph and cable tolls it expends three million dollars annually; expends this vast sum to tireless and reliable workers in order that the world may be told each day of its own happenings. Today Japan may declare war upon China. Within less than a moment by cable and telegraph that news is spreading under seas and over continents and within three hours, you ten thousand miles away are reading it on your front porch. Wonderful, isn't it. But equally wonderful are the things this great institution doesn't tell. The Kaiser says to it I will do so and so tomorrow, but of it nothing must be spoken; Lord Kitchener tells it in a week I will do this and that, but not a word of it. It is news that would set mankind agape, but not a hint of it is breathed. That is the honor and integrity of the Associated Press. It is that which gives it standing before government and court, makes it the world's dispenser of news, gives it its franchise a priceless value.

The Times is the one Ohio paper between Cincinnati, Columbus and Pittsburgh that carries its full afternoon service. How thorough it is the Lusitania horror showed. Our accounts were many hours ahead of other afternoon papers circulating here and many of the dispatches appearing in Saturday's issue appeared in the Sunday morning issues of outside papers that arrived in Portsmouth.

Who Lost Copper Kettle?

The police were notified by Isaac Quanser, junk dealer, Tuesday, that he had a copper kettle in his possession that is probably stolen property and that the owner is invited to come to his place of business on Third street.

It is so easy to misconstrue a good man's motives. Several million people swore Roosevelt was everlastingly and eternally after office, and now, according to his own own admission, he was all the time trying to get into a position where he could reform the party bosses.

It is merely a difference of numbers. All mules kick, most men do.

Where was Representative Sprague of Scioto county when the vote on the Gallagher bill was taken.

We heartily concur in the expressed hope that if Japan and China go to war they will not indulge in the civilized brand.

Frank James, the celebrated Missouri outlaw, declared every man had a yellow streak in him, Even Billy Sunday is no exception to that rule for he is "afraid" the movies will catch him. Still, that may be but prudence for no one accuses Billy of not knowing how the bullet on his head comes.

The Austrians are killing a few hundred thousand Russians in the Galician mountains. That only means a few more million Mis-covites will be marched to the front.

Italy would be more ready to jump if she could be altogether certain where the cat is going to land.

The Turks ran all the Allied forces into the sea—and the next day the same forces were pounding away at the very gates of Constantinople. All according to the cable, but what is a poor neutral to believe?

"I don't see why people have been kicking on the cold spell of the past few days. It just had to be," said the man who stands on the First National Bank corner every day in the year, holidays included. "You see it is snow ball winter. It comes every year when the snow balls are in full bloom or blossom or whatever you call it. Just take a look next year when the snow ball bushes are out and see if I am not right."

OLD NEW YORK

New York, May 11.—Alfred Lyth, the best caricaturist in Lima, O., ever produced, was standing at the telegraph desk of a Broadway hotel the other evening when an actor—well known in the repertoire circuit—stepped up to the blonde attendant and asked the rate to Paris. The girl told him the cable rate.

"I mean to Paris, Texas," he explained.

She told him what the rate was and added: "I didn't think you looked like—er rather, I might have known by your looks you meant—that is—'isn't this a lovely day—that is how cool the nights or growing or is it?'"

And then she settled back in her chair to fan the heat of an avalanche of blushes.

New York likes to nurse the hoity-toity that plays built especially for local consumption fall flat when they play the "tanks"—meaning Philadelphia, Chicago and Boston.

"Hello Broadway!" was a New York show of this type. It was supposed to deal with the things only people who knew their New York understood.

It went out on the road a month ago and is playing to better houses than it did in New York. All of which shows that strangers know more about New York than the residents.

Don Marquis, the Atlanta poet, took a ride on a Brooklyn trolley car yesterday—paid his fare and asked for a transfer. He waited a period—maybe a couple of periods—and then asked again as the conductor evidently did not hear him the first time.

To his amazement the conductor said: "I didn't hear you the first time," and handed him the transfer.

Marquis has a friend in the West (Hickokensis) who is a solver of Futurist poetry and other inexplicable things but he has passed up the riddle as being a trifle too psychic.

At the upper end of the Times building a crowd had collected jangling and pushing to get near a fresh bulletin just posted. From a Broadway cafe a man with his hat at a rakish angle and dragging an umbrella elevated the edge of the crowd unsteadily. Finally:

Charles and William Seiling, of Sciotoville, to O. & O. Northern railroad company, 12 acres in Harrison township, $1500.

Calvary Community No. 13, Knights Templar, will attend the Ascension Day services at All Saints Episcopal church Thursday evening in a body. The Sir Knights will meet in the asylum at the Masonic Temple at 8 o'clock and march in full uniform to the church, where a special service will be delivered by the pastor, Rev. Sir Knight E. A. Powell.

Building New Garage
Ivan Riley and wife, formerly of this city, were visitors here Monday. Mr. Riley is president and general manager of the Iron-ton Garage company. The firm is at present erecting a fine new garage.

Painter Injured
Frank Vigus, a contracting painter, had his right heel badly hurt when a 10 ft. step ladder on which he was standing upset at the mayor's office Monday noon. He had been painting a rear window sash. A bucket of paint was also spilled in the accident.

To Launch Boat
Tom Burt expects to launch his motor boat "Turk" within the next few days.

Modern Ideas

If Father Noah lived today And it began to rain, He would not build the ark, He'd build a hydroplane.

If wicked Nero lived today And Roma began to burn, He would not play a violin, A phonograph he'd turn.

If Ben Hur lived with us today, No chariot he'd ride; He'd buy a 90-horsepower car To win his fame and bride.

The Modern Girl

"Kiss a modern girl and get painter's colic," says Billy Sunday. Rudekisser would probably amend that to read: "Kiss a modern girl and get a suit for breath of promise."—Columbus Dispatch.

A Wise Word

"What'd your boss say when you asked for a raise and told him you'd grown gray in his service?"

Very, Very!

"I saw the doctor's auto in front of your house the other day. Is it anything serious?"

"What shall we do about our outing if it rains Tuesday?"

"If they persist in leading the boys in the schools military tactics, I don't believe old Willie would go in for it."

"How do you sell your music?"

At The Telephone

The employer of a Polish girl who has learned quickly to speak English, tells of her attempted mastery of the telephone. After its use was explained to her, she was eager to answer every call. A ring came and she jumped to the telephone.

What Moved 'Em

A school teacher recently gave his pupils a lecture on patriotism. He pointed out the high motives which moved the territorialists to leave their homes and fight for their country.

For Good Cause

A man allowed himself to get very much excited about a letter he had written to the editor of a newspaper. He told a friend that he intended to lick the editor.

The Markets

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, May 11.—Stocks rose buoyantly at today's opening, receding moderately during the dull mid-season, but turned strong again in the final trading.

The market gave every indication at the opening of its intention to shake off the depression caused by the sinking of the Lusitania. Active stocks registered gains of 2 to 6 points, will not so much as a single initial decline in any quarter. United States Steel began with five thousand shares at 53 1/4 to 54 1/4, compared with yesterday's close of 50 3/4. Westinghouse on sales of 3,000 shares was quoted at 89 to 89 1/2, a maximum rise of 5 1/4, and Bethlehem Steel rose 4 1/4.

Coppers, motors and the miscellaneous group gained 3 to 5. Reading and Canadian Pacific were the features of the standard railways, gaining 3 1/4 to 4 1/2. Prices yielded one to two points after the first hour, a logical result of heavy trading for profits. Trading diminished perceptibly, the output of the first hour being relatively light and lapsing into absolute silliness before midday. Such estimation as was derived from the attitude of Washington towards events was nullified by latest foreign advice, which pointed to greater tension respecting Italy's next move. Railroad bonds were strong, but government issues were inappreciable heavy, losing half to a full point.

The market again became animated in the later dealings, some stocks making best prices of the day. The closing was strong.

LITTLE JOURNERS INTO FASHION LAND

FUNTIME are again popular this spring, especially in the furnishing of the summer abode. One needs skill in selecting colors and designs to obtain satisfactory results. Children have an intense primeval pathos which there are many places. It is hard to choose just the right design, and a mistake indeed one which cannot be ignored, for it will be plain sight all the time.

The revival of children has put a bewildering variety of patterns and weaves upon the market, for reps, creases and what look like merely plain old fashioned calicoes are all in one class so far as popular favor is concerned. Before rushing blindly into the purchasing of these materials it is well to learn something about the various weaves.

Most of the domestic children are wanted to wear indistinctly, while some of those of domestic manufacture are not to be relied upon and are likely to fade. Most of the foreign children are made in the lovely French children, which appear in the softest colors and charming patterns.

Copies of Famous Designs.

Most of them are copies of famous designs, suggestive of famous persons, memorable for artistic achievement. Reproductions of the old English black prints are interesting, but not always practical or beautiful. With their decorative birds and garish flowers of the normal also they cannot but make one wonder who would use them in a home yet in the right place and under circumstances they can make an unusual and thoroughly artistic room.

RECOVER 26 BODIES

(Continued From Page One) Wade, believed his employer had entered one of the boats smashed against the side of the ship, but Dr. Kenan's story is so definite it is accepted generally as the correct version of Mr. Vanderbilt's last moments aboard the ship.

When the Lusitania was in her death throes there was no cooler group aboard than that composed of Mrs. Marie DePage, Herbert S. Stone, Lindon W. Bates, Jr., and Dr. J. T. Houghton. The last named was the only survivor of the party. This little band guided women and children, supplied life belts, bound up the wounds of other passengers and then plunged hopelessly into the sea, having given up their own live preservers.

Another throng of anxious friends and relatives arrived here last night but the chances of identifying more of the dead are remote as the great pits in the cemetery are filled with those buried as unknown while other bodies which come ashore soon will be beyond identification. Children Are Separated From Parents and Drown

Dr. F. Warren Pearl, of New York, who was a surgeon major in the United States army during the Spanish-American war, and was on the Lusitania bound for Belgium on Red Cross work, was saved with his wife, who has a broken arm, and two of their children. Two other children and two nurses employed by Dr. Pearl, are missing.

In the rush to the deck one of the nurses and two of the children were separated from the remainder of the family. Dr. Pearl left his wife in the care of Herbert Stone and Lindon Bates, Jr., of New York, while he searched the ship for the missing members of his family.

Mrs. Pearl says that she saw Mr. Stone and Mr. Bates go down when a wave washed over the part of the ship. Mr. Bates was wearing a heavy overcoat.

"I was lunching with Mr. Stone, Mr. Bates, Mrs. Antonio DePage and Dr. J. T. Houghton when I felt a shock," said Dr. Pearl. "On my way to the deck I saw Charles Frohman distributing life belts."

"I saw no signs of panic. Officers and crew apparently were doing everything possible to save the passengers, but the explosions rendered the engine useless and it was impossible to slow down the ship."

PEACE WITH HONOR

a step, he said, would provide American ships to carry American passengers and goods. He added that he took it for granted that the United States would find means to protect its own ships.

La Follette Is For Peace

Senator La Follette, another White House caller today, opposed the suggestion that diplomatic relations with Germany be broken off. "I am for peace," said Senator La Follette. "Want the United States to take a firm stand, but I am opposed to war."

Serve Humanity First Is Slogan

The president's Philadelphia speech was interpreted by official Washington as meaning that whatever course is pursued the United States probably would endeavor to serve the cause of humanity, by appealing to Germany to end her submarine warfare against unarmed merchant ships carrying non-combatants.

Germany's disavowal of any intention to destroy American lives was looked upon by many officials as significant of Germany's desire to maintain friendly relations with the United States and that her main purpose was to terrorize Great Britain and paralyze trans-Atlantic travel.

DESTROYED EACH OTHER

"Similar reports have come in hand from reliable neutral sources to the effect that a number of badly damaged and slightly damaged ships had reached English ports for repairs. The manner in which they had been damaged has been left unexplained.

"An especially large number of damaged ships ran into the Tyne. A damaged cruiser was towed into the Tyne. A ship of the Lion class with a starboard list and with her aft funnel missing was towed into the Firth of Forth."

"The silence of the admiralty on all this is easily to be understood. As the German navy took no part in any fighting on the night in question and as a fight with neutral vessels is out of the question, a battle can only have taken place between ships of the British fleet which did not recognize each other in the darkness."

"The secretary of the British admiralty states that there is not a word of truth in this fabrication. It is interesting, however, as a mark of the anxiety of Germany at the present moment to make an impression on neutral states."

Miss Gladys Martin, who has been ill at her home in the Sunny-side Addition is much improved.

SAY, KEEP YOUR EYES ON THE KORN KARNIVAL

Will Be A Big Event

Delinite head-gay was made by the directors of the Retail Merchants Association in the arrangement of features for the 1915 Korn Karnival at their meeting Monday evening. Now that many of the features have been decided upon, future energies of the board will be directed toward perfecting the details to make each separate feature a huge success.

Portsmouth's leading manufacturers will again lend their assistance to the success of Portsmouth's 1915 Korn Karnival, assurance having been received by the Retail Merchants' Association that their exhibits will be larger and more interesting than last year, when the "Made in Portsmouth" street was a decided feature of the exhibition.

The shoe manufacturers will demonstrate the manufacture of shoes in the making, and their exhibit will be on a much larger scale than ever before. Other industries will install machinery in temporarily constructed booths, showing the process of manufacture of their particular product, while others will have on display their finished product. Last year's experience has proved profitable both to the directors of the Karnival and the exhibitors, and this feature of the Karnival will undoubtedly be an even greater success than last year.

Among the suggestions that were discussed were the Two Mile Dinner, the "Bill" parade, the children's parade, the ladies' fraternal parade, the Farmers' parade. From the tone of the discussion, it is almost an assured fact that each one of the above features will be included in this year's Karnival.

The Two Mile dinner is an entirely new idea for this section, and should prove one of the most novel sights of the week. The tentative plans call for the construction of temporary tables on each side of the streets along the Karnival. At each place will be a tin cup and a spoon, the only individual eating utensils. The dinner, all cold except the coffee, which will be served hot, will be served on wooden plates.

One church or religious society will have charge of the service for one block. A gasoline stove would be placed in each square to heat the coffee. The idea is to have every one seated at the same time, and to have each block served at the same time.

The "Bill" parade will be another innovation similar to the "John" parade of last year. Every man who answers to the cognomen of William will be eligible to march in the parade. The bars will be let down, too, for the Billikens, while Billy Goat, Billy Club, Hello Bill, Big Bill, Sweet William, Little Willie, Due Bill, Dollar Bill, Duck's Bill and Bill Book will also be admitted. The Baseball Trio, Bill Gableman, Bill Doyle and Bill Zottmann, will be in line. Billy Butt In has been suggested for grand marshal, in the event that Kaiser Bill can't get away from the war zone to officiate in that capacity. Gas Bills, Board Bills, and Due Bills will be barred from the parade. Prizes will be offered for the tallest Bill, the shortest Bill, the fattest Bill, the leanest Bill, the handsomest Bill, the homeliest Bill, the oldest Bill, the youngest Bill, and the Bill who came the farthest to march.

The children's parade will be one of the afternoon features. The children will be garbed as fairies, Boy Scouts, Indians, and every other conceivable costume, while children's songs will add to the attractiveness of the spectacle. There is also talk of including the baby buggy parade with the children's parade.

Another afternoon feature will be the ladies' fraternal parade, when the members of the auxiliaries of the different lodges will be in line, some of them in costume. This will be followed by the fraternal parade at night, which has been one of the biggest events of former Karnivals.

The Farmers' parade will be bigger than ever this year, and the directors will evince more interest in it than ever before. Farmers from all over the county will be encouraged to enter decorated wagons and vehicles, displaying farm products and fruits.

Instructions were given the program committee to mail out within the next few days the premium lists so that the farmers can have ample time to arrange to enter exhibits. The committee stated that the programs would be distributed some time this week. On the reverse side of the list is an argument in favor of the county experimental farm, placed there at the request of the county granges.

The directors also want on record as being heartily in favor of joining with the other civic organizations and individuals in the baseball opening today.

A Slander Started Concerning Star Stogies

WHETHER of malicious motives or not, a story is going the rounds to the effect that Doerr Bros., manufacturers of STAR STOGIES, greatest sellers in Southern Ohio, have been using paper binders in the making of this popular brand of stogies. Those who know the manufacturers, are aware of the fact they have built up their business along legitimate lines, ever striving to give their patrons 100 per cent. pure products. They have never stooped to "imitations" or "something just as good."

Keeping abreast of the times has ever been their motto. And some time ago, a binder product was manufactured and patented by the Tobacco Production Co., of the state of Connecticut—a binder that has been successfully in use by some of the biggest manufacturers in the country. A binder, mind you, that is made from pure tobacco, no other ingredients entering into its manufacture. Doerr Bros. admit frankly that to the uninitiated that the new product, which is being used exclusively as binders for Star Stogies, resembles brown paper in appearance, but they affirm with strong emphasis that the binder is just as stated—MADE FROM PURE TOBACCO. The new binder holds the tobacco firmly, lessens breakage and adds to the flavor of the tobacco—MAKING RED STAR STOGIES BETTER THAN EVER.

That the new binder is an absolute tobacco product is shown by the fact that it is labeled "Standard Pure Tobacco Binders", and every shipment is entered in the revenue book under columns of Scraps, Cutting and Clippings. You know that it is impossible to fool the United States Government and when Uncle Sam brands anything pure it must be pure. That is exactly what the United States Government has done with "Pure Tobacco Binders," the kind used in the manufacture of STAR STOGIES.

This same binder is being used on many five cent cigars. It is a time saver, preserves the aroma of the tobacco, and facilitates the making of the stogie, every one of which is wrapped perfectly smooth and all being of uniform size.

As an additional argument that the Pure Tobacco Binders are made from pure tobacco is shown from the following affidavit as made by the manufacturers of the product:

Affidavit

STATE OF CONNECTICUT, COUNTY OF LITCHFIELD, ss:

EVERETT J. STURGES, being first duly sworn, deposes and says that he is a resident of New Milford, Connecticut; Cashier of the First National Bank of New Milford and Treasurer of the Tobacco Production Co., manufacturers of Standard Pure Tobacco Binders. Dependent further states that he has been and is in close personal touch with all of the manufacturing operations of the Tobacco Production Co., aforesaid, is familiar with every detail of the process by which the Standard Pure Tobacco Binders are produced, and that no ingredients enter into this production other than the products of a tobacco plant.

EVERETT J. STURGES,
 Treasurer of Tobacco Production Co.

JOHN F. ADDIS,
 Notary Public for Connecticut.

Believing that the above explanation will convince all of our patrons that we have kept faith with them, and that we have sought to make STAR STOGIES better than ever. And we proudly insist that Star Stogies are the best in the world—use them exclusively.

Respectfully yours,

DOERR BROS.

MARY MONTGOMERY AWARDED DAMAGES

A jury in common pleas court about noon Tuesday returned a verdict of $391.00 damages in favor of the plaintiff in the case of Mary Montgomery against Mary Morrow Mitchell and her husband, Clarence O. Mitchell. The jury retired at 10:45 Tuesday morning, and reported forty-five minutes later. All twelve of the jurors concurred in the verdict. Attorneys Blair and Kimble, for the defendants, announced that he would enter a motion for a new trial.

Miss Montgomery claimed that she suffered permanent personal injuries as the outcome of an alleged assault committed upon her by the defendants at their home on Front street, last February. She asked the court to award her a judgment of $5,000 damages. The trial started in common pleas court about three weeks ago, but was discontinued on the second day on account of the absence of a material witness for the plaintiff. The trial was resumed yesterday morning. Attorney Theodore K. Funk represented the plaintiff.

company, there is no objection to allowing a man to call, providing her mother or some other member of the family remains in the room.

Dear Miss Dolly Wise.—I wish you could tell me how to remove warts! I have some on my face. I have tried different things. I did go to the doctor and he burnt them off but they came back again. I wish you could tell me something that would remove them.

A READER.—The constant application of castor oil is supposed to remove warts. Another old fashioned and harmless remedy is a bean leaf. Crush the leaf up and then rub on wart.

Dear Dolly.—Please give an old and valuable subscriber a recipe for buttered corn pie.

A READER.—Will some one please phone in this recipe as I have misplaced mine.

Dear Miss Wise.—Can you please tell me who owns the vacant lots on the northeast corner of 15th and Kinney streets? And also the ones that face 13th and 12th streets just east of Fifth street? And if possible give me the names and addresses of these people. Is my writing good?

P. D. O. F.

I do not know. Why not inquire next door? Your writing is just fair.

Dear Dolly.—Don't you think it looks silly to see a perfectly strong and healthy young man go along the street carrying a cane? It's all right for the old and infirm, but a young sport who does such a thing gets on my nerves. My friend, who by the way, is not a Portsmouth man, carries a "stick" as he calls it and I'm ashamed to go out with him, because people here are shocked when they see a stylish man or woman on the street.

JUST ME.

Portsmouth is not so shocked at men with canes as you imagine. In fact, quite a few of our own men, young and old, have been carrying sticks for years. I think you must be hyper-sensitive. Don't let a little thing like that worry you. The ladies also carry canes down east. Why not be the first to carry one here.

Dear Miss Wise.—Is there anything I can do to have more color in my face? I am a brunette and am extremely careful of my diet and exercise, but try as I will, I cannot acquire the healthy color I would like to have.

MATILDA.

There are a great number of perfectly healthy people who do not have color in their faces. If you have a good skin don't worry about your coloring, often pale complexioned people are more attractive than their more florid sisters. Diet and exercise are the two determining factors in the kind of complexion one has. Be careful of your food, drink lots of water and exercise strenuously in the open air and you will acquire a healthy look whether you have high coloring or not.

Dear Miss Wise.—Please tell me a remedy for galled feet.

Dear Dolly.—I am going with a girl and am about to pop the question, but of course can't afford to get her a swell diamond ring. I know she would not want a cheap one and I would not want to offer her one either. What I would like to know is this: Is a diamond absolutely necessary to an engagement?

NO. A diamond is the least important part of an engagement. I think it a foolish thing for a man to buy an expensive ring when the money could be expended in a dozen different ways to better advantage. Of course I'm in favor of the diamond when a man can afford it, but in your case I believe I would get the girl's birthstone instead of a diamond. However, I would advise you to find out the girl's opinion first. You can refer to the matter in an off-hand way and find out how she feels about an engagement ring.

FRESH AIR CAMP IS A CERTAINTY; SECURE SITE

At a meeting of the Scioto County Anti-Tuberculosis society held Tuesday morning the option recently taken on Edward Young's tract of land comprising three and one half acres and located on Mahert Road half a mile from the street car line was closed. It will serve as a site for the Fresh Air Camp and a building will be erected on it at once. It will contain three large rooms and wide porches that will accommodate persons afflicted with tuberculosis or those tubercularly inclined. The officials of the site before closing the option and are satisfied that it will serve their purpose admirably.

This society has planned a Fresh Air Camp for sometime and it is now to become an actuality. It was announced that the site would be cleared off and work on the Fresh Air Camp building will begin without further delay.

The society is to be incorporated and the papers of incorporation will soon be forwarded to Columbus.

Mrs. Anna Anstead, visiting nurse was given a leave of absence to take a post graduate course in Chicago. While away her work will be carried on by Mrs. Elida Wyans.

Mrs. B. B. McFadden, who has been looking after the collections for the Fresh Air Camp reported splendid progress at this meeting. Many tickets were sold for the benefit performances at the Lyric theatre and the Social Whirl netted a good sum. Mrs. McFadden is working very industriously in behalf of the Fresh Air Camp, being on the job every minute of the day, and is full of enthusiasm.

Doerr Bros. Are Set Right With Public

Doerr Bros., cigar manufacturers of Second street, came to the front with a strong denial that they are using brown paper as binders on their Red Star stogies. Their denial is backed up with an affidavit and they hope by this to stop the story that is going the rounds concerning the use of said binder.

To begin with, Doerr Bros., who have ever kept abreast with the times during the 31 years they have been manufacturing the Star stogies, learned that a reliable tobacco house in the state of Connecticut had patented a binder, which is made from pure tobacco, no other ingredient being used. This binder enables the manufacturers to make a much smoother and a more uniform smoke and at the same time preserves the tobacco, adding considerably to the taste of the smoke. The new binder may resemble brown paper, but as stated above it is made from entlings and scrap and is absolutely pure tobacco, and is so labeled by the United States government, being registered in the revenue books under the column, "Stems, cutting and scrap." The scrap tobacco is made into a pulp in much the same manner as wood is prepared for the making of news paper. It is then moulded into binders. This product is being used on some of the highest priced cigars of the country, and will, no doubt, be used within a short time by many of the cigar manufacturers of the larger cities.

A full explanation concerning these binders, is made in the Doerr Bros. display advertisement which appears in this issue of the Times.

JOE IS IN BREAD LINE TODAY

Mrs. Jos. Stokley spent Tuesday moving to her new home near Third and Union streets. She ordered her husband not to come home for dinner. Joe agreed to do as ordered but pleaded that he did not have the price of a dinner. "Why go and eat some of that prison grub for men just as good as you have eaten there," was his better half's parting shot.

First Christian Ch. To Support Mission

While the membership of the First Christian church is composed in the main of those who earn their bread by the sweat of their faces, nevertheless at the Bible school conference held last night a resolution was unanimously passed which if lived up to will result in the church supporting entirely a missionary in a foreign field. To do this, it will be necessary for the church to raise $600 per annum for foreign missions. This done, the church will become what is known as "a living link." Rev. Charles K. Oakley, the new minister, is strong on missions, and he has enthused the members along this line.

The first missionary offering will be taken on Sunday morning, June 6, when Children's Day will be observed. Rev. Oakley was named as the chairman of a committee to prepare plans for the raising of a splendid sum for foreign missions.

A program was partially mapped out for "Cradle Roll Day," which will be held next Sunday. Of course the little tots will perform. They will no doubt be greeted by a large crowd, for their exercises this year promise to surpass those of former years.

A committee consisting of Mrs. C. M. Howland, Mrs. C. I. Cheyney and Mrs. Ruggles was named to prepare the program for Children's Day and have absolute charge of the exercises.

All in all the meeting last night was helpful and one of the most enthusiastic ever held. The attendance was good and the reports from the various departments of the Bible school showed the school was moving forward. Superintendent Charles M. Howland presided and there was not a dull moment during the entire session.

"Help! Torpedoed fore and aft, and held a prisoner of war until $10 ransom is sent."

A message to this effect was received this morning from E. G. Eieger, trap drummer at the Columbia theater, by Fred N. Tynes, manager of the theater. Mr. Eieger was coming from Cincinnati in his new automobile and was pinched at Bainbridge.

"How fast were you going?" Mr. Tynes asked Eieger.

"I thought I was going about ten miles an hour, but 'the' constable who nabbed me claims I was going sixty," was the reply.

The money was forwarded and Eieger arrived home in time to join the baseball parade today.

PLAN FOR BATHING BEACH

The lessees of the river front, near the upper ferry landing, have appealed to the city officials to get rid of shantytowns located and moored there, so that they may install their bathing beach equipment. Chief McCarty will detail officers to make the shantytown people move as soon as the lessees secure written orders from the land owners.

Banquet Committee Will Meet Tonight

The general committee in charge of arrangements for the "Get Together" banquet to be held by Scioto county Republicans May 15, will meet at Charles T. Hurd's office, room 221, Music Temple, tonight to perfect plans.

Tickets for the banquet are now on sale. John Hall has charge of the tickets and can be found during the day time at the county clerk's office and at Mr. Hurd's office in the evening.

BIG CROWDS AT THE MOOSE CARNIVAL

Great crowds flocked to the West End Monday night to attend the opening of the Loyal Order of Moose's carnival.

The carnival night prevailed and hundreds thoroughly enjoyed themselves mingling with friends on the grounds, attending the various shows or patronizing the concessions. The "Peggy From Paris" show did a capacity business throughout the evening. The athletic show also enjoyed a good run. Several interesting wrestling matches are scheduled for tonight. The Plantation show and one or two others will be added to the line of attractions this evening.

The National Exposition Company carries a splendid band and its stirring music does much to enliven the street fair, which will contribute for the remainder of the week.

TEAMSTER IS FINED

John Carley, a teamster, was given a $5 suspended fine in police court Tuesday for trespassing on Liveryman Frank Gardiner's premises.

Carley had been repeatedly ordered by Gardiner to remain away from his barn, particularly when drinking but he persisted in coming around. Carley claimed that spite was back of the complaint and that Gardiner was angry because he had steered a patron to another livery barn. The court held he should have heeded warning and advised him to stay away from the place in the future.

Carley had boasted no officer would arrest him according to Gardiner.

Merchants Will Close

The Ironmonger says: "While we have been talking long and enthusiastically on the league opening at Charleston we must not forget that the local opening is going to be 'some pumpkins' all of itself. Secretary Fillgrave yesterday called upon the various merchants and the stores of the city will practically all be closed when the Nailers and Senators come here for the opening game next Thursday."

RECOVER EIGHT BODIES OF LUSITANIA'S DEAD

FEAR OTHERS MAY BE CARRIED BY CURRENT TO WEST IRISH COAST

Queenstown, May 11.—The body of Albert Thompson, of Toronto, brought in by an admiralty trawler last night, was found drifting with wreckage near the coast not far from the scene of the Lusitania disaster, which leads to the hope that additional bodies may be found in that vicinity. Seven unidentified bodies also were landed at Baltimore, 47 miles southwest of Cork, but the weather conditions are such that it is not considered probable many more will be found in that immediate vicinity and all hope of finding further survivors now has been abandoned.

Fear Bodies Carried To West Irish Coast

A current of from two and a half to three knots runs around Old Head, Kinsale, and this has been augmented by a stiff east wind which at the end of eight or nine days may carry bodies ashore around Cape Clear, on the west Irish coast. The winds ordinarily prevailing would have brought bodies ashore on the Atlantic coast of Cornwall, England.

The Cunard steamship company after much trouble has sent a tug to the scene of the disaster with instructions to run into the nearest cove and inform Cunard officials here if even a single body is found.

Webb Wade, secretary of Alfred G. Vanderbilt, has not yet been able to arrange with the authorities to comply with his request that all necessary things be chartered at the expense of the Vanderbilt family to search for other bodies as well as that of Mr. Vanderbilt.

Group of Americans Cool At Critical Time

Until he heard the story of Dr. Owen Kenan, of New York, Mr. Wade believed his employer had entered one of the boats smashed against the side of the ship, but Dr. Kenan's story is so definite it is accepted generally as the correct version of Mr. Vanderbilt's last moments aboard the ship.

When the Lusitania was in her death throes there was no cooler group aboard than that composed of Mrs. Marie De Page, Herbert S. Stone, Linden W. Bates, Jr., and Dr. J. T. Houghton. The last named was the only survivor of the party. This little band guided women and children, supplied life belts, bound up the wounds of other passengers and then plunged hopelessly into the sea, having given up their own live preservers.

Another throng of anxious friends and relatives arrived here last night but the chances of identifying more of the dead are remote as the great pits in the cemetery are filled with those buried as unknown while other bodies which come ashore soon will be beyond identification.

Children Are Separated From Parents and Drown

Dr. P. Warren Pearl, of New York, who was a surgeon major in the United States army during the Spanish-American war, and was born on the Lusitania bound for Belgium on Red-Cross work, was saved with his wife, who has a broken arm, and two of their children. Two other children and two nurses employed by Dr. Pearl are missing.

In the rush to the deck one of the nurses and two of the children were separated from the remainder of the family. Dr. Pearl left his wife in the care of Herbert Stone and Linden Bates, Jr., of New York, while he searched the ship for the missing members of his family.

Mrs. Pearl says that she saw Mr. Stone and Mr. Bates go down when a wave washed over the part of the ship. Mr. Bates was wearing a heavy overcoat.

"I was lunching with Mr. Stone, Mr. Bates, Marie, Antoine De Page and Dr. J. T. Houghton when I felt a shock," said Dr. Pearl. "On my way to the deck I saw Charles Frohman distributing life belts."

"I saw no signs of panic. Officers and crew apparently were doing everything possible to save the passengers, but the explosions rendered the engine useless and it was impossible to slow down the ship."

WASHINGTON ANXIOUSLY AWAITS THE RESULT OF TODAY'S CABINET MEETING

SPECULATE ON POLICY OF WILSON

Washington, D. C., May 11.—The sinking of the steamer Lusitania and the allegations resulting from that act continued today to hold the undivided attention of official Washington. Chief interest naturally centered in the White House, where it was expected President Wilson would give some indication to his advisers with the course the United States will pursue in the present emergency. Today's cabinet meeting is the first to be held since the Lusitania disaster.

President Wilson returned early today from a trip to the White House, where he was expected to address a gathering of nationalized citizens last night. His speech was being widely discussed here today. While the president did not refer specifically to the situation brought about by the sinking of the Lusitania, some thought he intimated that while the United States would remain at peace, an endeavor would be made to show Germany from the American viewpoint that her action was wrong.

One of his advisers said the president's chief aim would be humanity first, no matter how vigorous the course adopted. Speculation as to what will be the policy of the United States will continue today. President Wilson, in the seclusion of the White House, has for the past three days been giving constant attention to the matter, realizing that the American people wish a speedy indication as to what action will be taken.

Messages continued to reach the White House today from throughout the country expressing confidence in the president's ability to handle the situation. Secretary Bryan and other officials of the state department today await receipt of the German government's note expressing its deepest sympathy at the loss of American lives in the Lusitania disaster, but placing the responsibility upon the British government's plan of starving the civilian population of Germany.

Unofficial advisers said that the communication had been enabled to the German embassy here.

Washington, May 11.—Discussing the attitude of the United States toward Germany, the Times says it "does not complain" because of the lack of vigorous action at Washington, but says "we are concerned only to make the British people understand they must not look to the United States, nor any other external factor, but must rely upon themselves and their allies. Whatever prompted the sinking of the Lusitania it means that the German nation is so confident of ultimate victory it does not care in the least what the United States may say or do."

FEW CANCELLATIONS IN STEAMSHIP LISTS

New York, May 11.—No general cancellation of the sailings of steamers or of passages arranged from New York to European ports has followed the sinking of the Lusitania, according to agents of steamship lines here. They say, however, that there has been an increase in the popularity of vessels flying neutral flags. The fact that the American Line has stopped looking third-class passengers for the St. Louis, which is due to leave here Saturday, was cited as an evidence of this.

The agent of the French Line said that the sinking of the Lusitania would not prevent them from sending their steamers across as usual. At the offices of the Canadian-American and Holland-American lines, it was stated, that no sailings had been cancelled. Agents of the White Star Line said the Olympic would sail from New York for Liverpool next Friday, according to schedule. Forty cabin and three hundred steerage passengers already are booked for that steamer.

At the offices of the Cunard Line it was said that no instructions have been received from Liverpool regarding the sailings of its steamers and there have been no cancellations.

It was estimated that 2,350 passengers are on board the various steamships from American ports bound for destinations that will take them within range of German submarine activity.

Miners Pass On Terms Of Settlement Today

Wheeling, W. Va., May 11.—Striking miners from the East Ohio district assembled here today to accept or reject the terms of settlement of the year-old strike reached by their committee and a committee of coal operators in Cleveland.

Among those who were scheduled to address the 450 delegates were John P. White, international president of the United Mine Workers; Vice-President Frank J. Hayes and Secretary Wm. Green of Coshocton, O. It was expected the agreement would be unanimously ratified.

AMERICANS GALLANT IN CRISIS

Queenstown, May 11.—There are indications that the heavy death toll among the American men in the first cabin of the Lusitania was due to a scarcity of life belts, many of them having given the life preservers they had obtained to helpless women. There is a preponderance of testimony that no American got into a boat until after he had been thrown into the water.

WEST VIRGINIA MAKES "TOUGH;" TO PAY DEBTS

Charleston, W. Va., May 11.—All claims against the state of West Virginia up to May 1, amounting to $119,000, will be paid today according to an announcement made last night by E. J. Long, state treasurer. This is "about possible," he said, by the large receipts of state taxes during the last few days.

The state treasurer said that in the last few weeks claims on the state treasury amounting to approximately $90,000 had been paid and $100,000 borrowed from the Workmen's Compensation fund had also been replaced with interest. He said the money paid out today would be applied to the salaries of state employees, the running expenses of state institutions and ordinary expenses of the state government.

CLAIMS HE IS AN AMERICAN

Victoria, B. C., May 11.—Moses Leuz, whose grocery and warehouse were attacked by anti-German rioters yesterday, claims to be an American citizen and today laid his case before the United States consul here. Leuz claims the damage to his property will amount to between $10,000 and $15,000. He says he came here 12 years ago.

OHIO STATE LEAGUE ANSWERS CALL TO COLORS

Local Players To Mobilize At Hotel For Monster Parade

PAGEANT WILL MOVE EAST AT 12:30

Well, this is the day when the wheels of the Ohio State league will be set in motion. As usual the opening day parades will be held on an elaborate scale and Portsmouth will uphold her reputation for doing things in a baseball way right up to the minute.

The local parade will start from the Washington hotel at 12:30 this afternoon. It will be headed by the River City band, then will follow the city patrolmen in their brass, buttoned uniforms of the newest cut, the budding athletes will ride cockily in automobiles as will officials of the club, directors and members of the Board of Trade, Retail Merchants Association and prominent fans, who have, so faithfully rooted for Portsmouth during the eight years she has been one of the main spokes in the Ohio State wheel.

FANS ARE WITH YOU

Well, fans you have the opportunity this year of rooting for an entirely new team and one that will be piloted by a Portsmouth boy, Chas. Spencer. No city can boast of a citizen athlete than Spencer and the fans to a man will be pulling for this sunny dispositioned lad to make good. And he will make good.

Possessing the essentials that make for success as a manager Spencer will keep his team in the race all the way. A man of many years' experience, who has played under the directing hand of many of the best known and wisest managers in the country, Spencer's managerial debut is an unexampled event in local baseball circles. Fans, you will have a chance to root for a Portsmouth boy as the local manager this year. Get behind this good natured, aggressive clever ball player and his faithful band of athletes and boost them every inch of the way. The booming of today makes for a victory tomorrow. Manager Spencer and gallant assistants Portsmouth fans are with you. May success be yours.

BOOSTER DAY IDEA IS SPREADING

Booster day for ball clubs is extending into the rural districts. Sunday June 9 was booster's day for the Waits Station nine and the day was a grand success, a neat sum being cleared and two fine games being offered for the price. Two more bets have been added to the belt of the Waits Station nine. At Painesville was badly beaten by a score of 20 to 0. Hanes and Burke worked for Painesville; Bolander and Reed for Waits.

The second game was not so easy. South Webster going down to defeat by a score of 7 to 2 with Waits on the long end. Townsend, Colegrove and Shopp for South Webster; Hansen and Reed for Waits.

The features of the game were the pitching of Hansen who did not walk a single man and Schultz's throw from center, enabling a runner at the plate. Anyone desiring a game call it. It. Hansen 8 on 31 Soloville exchange.

Big Plans In Other Towns

Plans were laid for a magnificent opening in Charleston today. Fifty business houses being closed on account of the inaugural festivities. A monster parade is to be the big feature.

Down in Frankfurt many of the officials of the state will figure conspicuously in the first exercises. All around the circuit opening day things were more elaborate than ever before.

OPENING DAY LINEUP

Here is how the Portsmouth and Chillicothe teams will line up in the opening day game at Millbrook, which is to be called sharply at 2 o'clock.

PORTSMOUTH
Dittz, right field.
Sharmann, center field.
Mills, catcher.
Spencer, first base.
Ruffin, short stop.
Bush, second base.
Emmer, third base.
McCull or Jacobus, pitcher.

CHILICOTHE
Harry Devore, center field.
Morrow, third base.
Corbin, right field.
Josh Devore, left field.
McClellan or Christian, second base.
Lamb, first base.
Baleman, short stop.
Doherty or Delely, catcher.
Brookley, Moore, Drake, Lyne or Mahon, pitcher.

BUILDINGS ARE DECORATED

In honor of the opening day of the Ohio State league baseball season in Portsmouth today the city buildings are decorated with flags and bunting. And many of the business houses are also decorated for the occasion. There are few better ball towns in the country than the dear old River City. It is conceded among ball players that Portsmouth is one of the best towns in the nation to play in as the fans root for their club and do not "ride" the players.

DUDDING UP IN THE CENTRAL

Say, fans, but they are real duffers over in the Central league this season. President Helthorn has issued an order that his players should not wear caps, probably or otherwise only when on trains. They are forbidden to cap themselves while loitering around in hotel lobbies. First thing you know the Central league players will be in the Pullman car conductors' clubs for dufferdom.

CHENEY IS ON MARKET

The Chicago Cubs have placed Larry Cheney on the market. He was offered to the Red Sox but they had to turn him down. Cheney is a fine player, but he has refused to listen to any sort of a trade for Cheney, who has had trouble with his arm all spring. He is only getting $7,500 per year and has one of those deliciously sweet iron bound contracts for three years.

REMEMBER THAT

The game will be called at three o'clock.

It will be up to you to root hard and long for the home team.

One error does not condemn a player.

Chas. Spencer is a "home boy." The "kiddies" are out there to win.

The umpire is a human being.

We Shall See

Manager McGraw frankly admits that he has more men on the injured list than one of the warring factions across the pond. McGraw says his team will get righted in a few days and when it opens up his 42 inch contortions every thing will be before their wiles. Oh, very well, Mr. McGraw, we shall see about that.

FULLERTON WON 6 TO 5

Bravely fighting every step of the way the Whitaker-Gleason company held their trenches for eleven innings Sunday at Cheney Island but they had to surrender to Fullerton by a score of 6 to 5. The thirteen hits by each team were kept widely scattered. The score:

The Reds jumped over to Detroit Monday to play an exhibition game and Cub, Crawford and company jumped on the Reds or rather on Pileter-Taney, who was recently purchased from the Chicago Cubs. The Reds were nobled out in the ninth, the final being 10 to 0. Both teams traded out a lot of substitutes.

BASE BALL TODAY.

Under the most favorable auspices the Ohio State League base ball season opens today. Locally the event will be signalized this afternoon with an immense automobile parade, and addresses at the park by the mayors of Portsmouth and New Boston respectively. Then the first ball will cut across the plate and Portsmouth and her old time rival, Chillicothe, will begin another struggle for supremacy.

The Ohio State League this year is composed of Portsmouth, Chillicothe, Ironton, Charleston, Lexington and Frankfort, and it is beginning its eighth season. Of the present members, Portsmouth is the oldest team in the league, and it is a gratifying testimonial to local enthusiasm that the team has always been loyally supported here. That this loyal, earnest support will continue, there is no doubt, and equally there is no doubt but that we will again have some mighty fine base ball in the Ohio State.

Our team this year is a team of youngsters, the average age of the players being about 20 years. That augurs well for the future. After they get their stride, they will undoubtedly give good account of themselves. If they do not bring home the pennant, they at least will put us on the base ball map, and the other teams will know that we are on earth.

This year, too, we start out with a new league president, Joseph Carr, long secretary of the League and a thorough going, clean, honest sportsman. He ought to make a fine official and will do his share to keep things up to the high standard set by his predecessor Robert W. Reid. Locally, the Portsmouth team goes out under a new leader, a home boy, Chester Spencer, succeeding the veteran Pete Childs. Spencer is a great ball player and he has had the experience that will put him over as a success.

The Times congratulates the local management upon what they have done in the past and what they expect to do in the future. We trust that the season will, in every way, meet their expectations.

WAR NOT A PINK TEA AFFAIR.

War is not supposed to be a pretty affair in which one combatant apologizes to the other before he shoots him, or bayonets him or blows him up by a mine. It is just what Sherman is popularly alleged to have said it was, it is hell. And in the present European struggle, where the fate of nations and their identity as such hangs on the outcome, the desperation of the nations engaged makes it doubly certain that there will be no little niceties of manner as to the achievement of results such as characterized warfare in the days of the Round Table.

Americans should realize this. They should keep before their minds that national existence is at stake for most of those at war in Europe, that the man who gets in the way, however good intentioned he may be, is liable to get hurt, and if he does get hurt, he is liable to involve his countrymen at home in difficulties. In other words, Europe is a good place to avoid right now. Just bear all this in mind too when you begin to sit in judgment upon the various tales of alleged cruelty perpetrated by one or another of the parties to the conflict. There have been excesses, no doubt, but once the savage passions of men are let loose one is surprised not that tales of cruelty are so many, but rather that they are so few.

But getting back to the niceties of war, human nature is human nature and we in America have at times been none too squeamish about means or methods. For instance—Last night we were reading a history of "The Conspiracy of Pontiac" by Parkman and there we read where a governor of Pennsylvania issued a proclamation in which he offered a reward of 150 Spanish dollars for each Indian male prisoner over 10 years of age; 130 Spanish dollars for each female prisoner and children under 10 years; 134 Spanish dollars for the scalp of every male Indian over 10 years of age, and 50 Spanish dollars for the scalp of every female Indian. In explanation of this remarkable proclamation, the author of it, excused it on the ground that the existence of the settlements on the frontier was at stake and he thought it the most effective means of bringing the warriors of Pontiac to terms speedily.

Roosevelt proposes to get too good, which is only proof conclusive that Roosevelt has been too bad. A city, like an individual, who becomes too acutely the victim of a quickened conscience, overlooks the thing at the start, lapses back and gets worse than ever.

THIS IS THE LIFE.

THE GREATEST IN THE WORLD.

No doubt a great many readers wonder why The Times carries above all other reading matter on its first page the announcement:

"The Portsmouth Times receives the full Associated Press report over its own leased wire"

The reason is obvious enough when one understands just what the Associated Press is. It is the greatest news gathering force in all the world, and it is the one agency whose business extends into every nook and cranny of the earth and that is in constant touch therewith. It is the confident and mouth-piece of presidents, kings and potentates. It is feared and respected by governments of high and low degree because its mission is to tell the truth and nothing else, but the truth, neither adding to nor taking therefrom. It is the biggest business in existence, not for profit. It costs nothing to become entitled to its service and yet not the richest paper can buy that same service. It is a voluntary association of newspapers and each pays according to the news it gets from it—just enough to pay for the cost of gathering the news and a little more to provide a fund for extraordinary emergencies, but not a cent of dividend or direct profit to any member.

In every principal city in the United States and in each and every town where there is a daily paper it has a reporter. In all the capitals of Europe, in South America, Asia, Africa, Australia, Ceylon, Madagascar and all the big cities of these continents and islands it has its representatives. All men trained and experienced to get the news, to tell its facts and have no opinion in the relation. In the hiring of them and the paying of telegraph and cable tolls it expends three million dollars annually; expends this vast sum to tireless and reliable workers in order that the world may be told each day of its own happenings. Today Japan may declare war upon China. Within less than a moment by cable and telegraph that news is spreading under seas and over continents and within three hours, you ten thousand miles away are reading it on your front porch. Wonderful, isn't it. But equally wonderful are the things this great institution doesn't tell. The Kaiser says to it I will do so and so tomorrow, but of it nothing must be spoken; Lord Kitchener tells it in a week I will do this and that, but not a word of it. It is news that would set mankind agape, but not a hint of it is breathed. That is the honor and integrity of the Associated Press. It is that which gives it standing before government and court, makes it the world's dispenser of news, gives it franchise, a priceless value.

The Times is the one Ohio paper between Cincinnati, Columbus and Pittsburgh that carries its full afternoon service. How thorough it is the Lusitania horror showed. Our accounts were many hours ahead of other afternoon papers circulating here and many of the dispatches appearing in Saturday's issue appeared in the Sunday morning issues of outside papers that arrived in Portsmouth.

Had Heart Attack

John Weatherpoon, an aged negro whitewasher, was seized with an attack of heart trouble while working on Gallia street Monday. He was assisted to police headquarters where City Physician Dr. Charles Wendt attended him. Later his condition became worse and he was rushed to Hopston hospital. He gave his home as Yorkville, S. C.

At the upper end of the Times building a crowd had collected jumping and pushing to get near a fresh bulletin just posted. From a Broadway cafe a man with his hat at a rakish angle and dragging a cane under his arm, edged of the crowd unsparingly. Finally

It is no easy to misinterpret a good man's motives. Several million people aware Roosevelt was everlastingly and eternally after office, and now, according to his own admission, he was all the time trying to get into a position where he could reform the party bosses.

It is merely a difference of numbers. All mules kick, most men do.

Where was Representative Sprague of Scioto county when the vote on the Gallagher bill was taken.

We heartily concur in the expressed hope that if Japan and China go to war they will not indulge in the civilized brand.

Frank James, the celebrated Missouri outlaw, declared every man had a yellow streak in him. Even Billy Sunday is no exception to that rule for he is "afraid" the movies will catch him. Still, that may be but prudence for no one accuses Billy of not knowing how the butter on his bread comes.

The Austrians are killing a few hundred thousand Russians in the Galician mountains. That only means a few more million Muscovites will be marched to the front.

Italy would be more ready to jump if she could be altogether certain where the cat is going to land.

The Turks ran all the Allied forces into the sea—and the next day the same forces were pounding away at the very gates of Constantinople. All according to the cable, but what is a poor mortal to believe?

"I don't see why people have been kicking on the cold spell of the past few days. It just had to be," said the man who stands on the First National Bank corner every day in the year, holidays included. "You see it is snow ball winter. It comes every year when the snow balls are in full bloom or blossom or whatever you call it. Just take a look next year when the snow ball bushes are out and see if I am not right."

OLD NEW YORK

New York, May 11.—Alfred French, the best caricaturist, Lima, O., over produced, was standing at the telegraph desk of a Broadway hotel the other evening when an actor—well known in the repertoire circuit—stepped up to the blonde attendant and asked the rate to Paris. The girl told him the cable rate.

"I mean to Paris, Texas," he explained. She told him what the rate was and added: "I didn't think you looked like—or rather, I might have known by your looks, you meant—that is—this is a lovely day—that is how cool the nights or growing or is it?"

And then she settled back in her chair to fan the heat of an avalanche of blushes. He told her what the rate was and added: "I didn't think you looked like—or rather, I might have known by your looks, you meant—that is—this is a lovely day—that is how cool the nights or growing or is it?"

New York likes to nurse the hoity-toity that plays built especially for local consumption full flat when they play the "lunks"—meaning Philadelphia, Chicago and Boston. "Hello Broadway" was a New York show of this type. It was supposed to deal with the things only people who knew their New York understood.

It went out on the road a month ago and is playing to better houses than it did in New York. All of which shows that stinkers know more about New York than the residents.

Don Marquis, the Atlanta poet, took a ride on a Brooklyn trolley car yesterday—paid his fare and asked for a transfer. He waited a period—maybe a couple of periods—and then asked again as the conductor evidently did not hear him the first time.

To his amazement the conductor said: "I didn't hear you the first time," and handed him the transfer.

Marquis has a friend in the West (Hickensmick) who is a solver of Futurist poetry and other inexplicable things but he has passed up the riddle as being a trifle too psychic.

Modern Ideas

It Father Noah lived today. And it began to rain. He'd build a hydroaeroplane.

If wicked Nero lived today. And Rome began to burn. He'd not play a violin. A photograph he'd turn.

If Ben Hur lived with us today. No chariot held ride. He'd buy a 90-horsepower car. To win his fame and bride.

The Modern Girl

"Kiss a modern girl and get painter's colic," says Billy Sunday. Roddhever would probably amend that to read, "Kiss a modern girl and get a suit for breach of promise."—Columbus Dispatch.

A Wise Boss

"What'd your boss say when you asked for a raise and told him you'd grown gray in his service?"

"Told me where to get some hair dye."

Very, Very

"I saw the doctor's auto in front of your house the other day. Is it anything serious?"

"Yes, it cries twenty-four hours a day."

Hold It Anyway

"What shall we do about our outing if it rains Tuesday?"

"Hold it Wednesday."

"But if it rains Wednesday?"

"Hold it Tuesday."

An Eye to Beauty

"Aw, shucks."

"How, how?"

"This fellow told me he was going to show me the beauties of the town."

"Well, didn't he?"

"He meant parks and office buildings. I was prepared to see some feminine loveliness."

Just As Bad

"If they persist in teaching the boys in the school military tactics, I don't believe our Willy would go in for it."

"Do you mean he's too chicken-hearted?"

"No, he's too pigeon-toed."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Cheap at That

"How do you sell your music?"

"We sell piano music by the pound, and organ music by the choir."—Columbia Jester.

At The Telephone

The employer of a Polish girl who has learned quickly to speak English tells of her attempted mastery of the telephone. After its use was explained to her, she was eager to answer every call. A ring came and she jumped to the telephone.

"Hello," came from the receiver.

"Hello," answered the girl, flushed with pride at being able to give the proper answer.

"Who is this?" continued the voice.

"I don't know," exclaimed the maid. "I can't see you."—Harper's Weekly.

What Moved Em

A school teacher recently gave his pupils a lecture on patriotism. He pointed out the high motives which moved the territorialists to leave their homes and fight for their country.

The school teacher noticed that one boy did not pay attention to the instruction, and as a test question, he asked him:

"What motives took the territorialists to the war?"

"The boy was puzzled for a moment; then, remembering the public sonnet of the local regiment at the railroad station, he replied:

"Locomotives, sir."—London Tit-Bits.

For Good Cause

A man allowed himself to get very much excited about a letter he had written to the editor of a newspaper. He told a friend that he intended to lick the editor.

"Why?"

"Well, the other day I sent him a letter on public affairs, which I signed 'Honestus'."

"Didn't he print it?"

"Sure, he printed it. But what did he do but add 's' to the signature?"—Manchester Union.

POLLY AND HER PALS

This afternoon will mark the opening of the eighth season of organized baseball in Portsmouth, and indications are a mammoth crowd will greet the River City athletes when they meet their old rivals, Chillicothe, at pretty Millbrook Park. Preceding the opening there will be an automobile parade over the streets of the city, and Mayor Frick will toss the first ball. Base ball is typically American. It is clean, snappy, wholesome, full of chance-taking happenings, just the kind of a game that appeals to nation with red blood in its veins. It is well then that "our boys" be given a glorious send-off. Take an afternoon off, forget your business and your troubles and enjoy the opener.

Will Myers and Ott Hughes, East Walker brick plant yards. Those it is claimed, that they began abusing the officer and when he followed them into the brick yard and laid hands on one of them they questioned his authority.

Attorney Gilliland emphasized the point that Smith had no right under any circumstances to lay hands on the men, which prompted the court to ask him if he always practiced what he preached. Thorpe, obviously angered, the lawyer declared this was a personal question and he sat down, refusing to have anything further to say. He wanted them to go and pending an appeal in the case, but the parents and relatives of the young men, rather than buy the court costs, pulled up, advising them to accept the court's verdict which they did, and giving orders on their time.

Chief of Police W. T. McCarty will have a new thrill today. He has never seen a regular game of baseball and has decided to go out in Millbrook this afternoon, and see the opener between Portsmouth and Chillsithe.

The directors of the Retail Merchants' Association, at their meeting Monday evening, unanimously endorsed the project to build an O. N. C. building in Northtown. This project is expected to follow the program of organization of an O. N. C. company in this city, which is now under way and making good headway.

The state, according to the military authorities, stands ready to appropriate $20,000 for the building if the city city furnishes the ground and appropriates a fair sum for the building.

Still another local chicken fancier springs up to challenge Chief McQuay's egg harvest.

A friend of Henry Saunders on Baird avenue writes that he was up at Saunders' home the other day and learned that Mr. Saunders had gathered over 2,000 eggs at his place since January 1st, last, and yet the owner does not claim to have the largest egg farm in the city. Chief McQuay's record was 1100 eggs since December 1st.

The writer added that he kept record of the eggs gathered from each pen every day and that the count is no mistake about it. It closes with a big boast for Saunders' place and the system he follows in caring for his fowls.

Mrs. William J. Meyer, of Water street, left Monday for a visit with relatives and friends in Huntington.

Pearl Boyles, of Sevierville, a yard engineer at the Steel plant, called at police headquarters Monday for information as to how to proceed legally to cause the killing of a dog that had severely bitten his five-year-old son, Edward, on the right arm Sunday. This happened at John Joseph's camp, the dog belonging to the custodian of the camp, a man named Bowman.
The child's wound was immediately cauterized by Dr. Dawson, of Wheelerburg. Boyles was advised to go into some magistrate's court and file an affidavit against Bowman, charging him with harboring a vicious dog.

Mrs. Anna Knoess
Word was received here Monday night that Mrs. Anna Knoess, aged 64 years, mother of Mrs. W. R. Bently, of Oakland avenue, and Mrs. W. M. Poffenberger, of New Fifth street, dropped dead at her home in Hallifax, Penn.

The message gave no other particulars. Letters received from Mrs. Knoess a few weeks ago indicated that she was in perfect health and the news of her sudden demise came as a decided shock to the daughters here. They expected to leave on an afternoon train for Hallifax to attend the funeral.

Mrs. Knoess is survived by her husband, Richard Knoess and besides the two daughters leaves also only son, Charles Knoess also of Hallifax. She was a member of the Baptist church.

A stranger giving the name of Duwe Williams, who had been ordered off the street fair grounds Monday evening for begging and who was later picked up for loitering was later in the night released by Sergeant James Marshall on a $5 cash bond. Williams had a railroad ticket for Cincinnati and caught the first train out of the city.

Miss Laura Ross, the charming guest of Misses Grace and Mabel McClure, of 1616 Mound street, returned to her home in Jackson, O. Monday. Among those who entertained for her pleasure during the past week were Miss Lorain Smith of Chillicothe pike, and Mrs. Ralph Swadner, of Findlay street.

time that foxxy woman knew it wasn't.
"That's too bad," she said. "But never mind. The bread-and-butter here is awfully good."
"Then they all fell to talking like mad. They'd been to a concert. Here are some of the lines I overheard:—
"Murgle sang that French song awfully well. Her French is excellent."
"Yes, that's what her French teacher says. And didn't she sing well?"
"Pretty well—for her. But I never did like her voice. It's so squeaky."
"That violinist played awfully well."
"Yes, I think it sounded mighty good with that orchestra accompaniment. I think her accompaniment really brought out all the beauty of the instrument. Paderewski says she plays like"—
"I couldn't stand any more. I'm going to a man's place, where the atmosphere is thick with blue smoke and where the steaks are thick, too."

New York, May 11.—How to satisfy the $258,000 judgment obtained by Loewe and company of Danbury, Conn., in a suit against the Danbury union, was the chief business before the convention of United Hatters of America in session here today. The judgment with interest now amounts to about $300,000. The honies of 250 members of the union were pledged as security during the litigation. Paris, May 11—While the press continues to display interest in the sinking of the Lusitania, the discussion in its editorial columns now turning more towards the political side of the tragedy and the probable attitude of President Wilson. A black and white line drawing of a long, pleated skirt. The skirt has a high waistband and a full, pleated body. At the bottom hem, there is a small bow or decorative element. The drawing is simple and appears to be a fashion sketch.

For general wear during the winter weather is dark colored linen or a possible is sure to give satisfaction. LITTLE JOURNEYS INTO FASHION LAND

CHINTZES are again popular this spring, especially in the furnishing of the summer abode.

One needs skill in selecting colors and designs to obtain satisfactory results. Chintzes dare one to pioneer paths along which there are many pitfalls. It is hard to choose by the right design, and a mistake indeed one which cannot be ignored, for it will in plain sight "all the time."

The revival of chintzes has put a bewildering variety of patterns and weaves upon the market. For the most part, what look like merely plain-old-fashioned calicoes are all in one class so far as popular favor is concerned. The designer blindfolded in selecting the materials it is well to learn something about the various weaves.

Most of the English chintzes are woven to wear indistinctly, while some of those of domestic manufacture are to be relied upon and are likely to fade. Most alluring of all, perhaps, are the lively French chintzes which appear in the softest colorings and charming patterns.

Copies of Famous Designs.
Most of them are copies of famous designs, suggestive of historic periods, memorable for artistic achievement. Reproductions of the old English block prints are interesting, but not always practical or beautiful. With their gayest birds and garish flowers of the normal size they cannot but make a wonder who would use them in a home set in the right place and under the hands that put make an unusual and thoroughly artistic copy.
